The time spent in newborn nursery is your opportunity to manage a level II nursery, make independent decisions, and be the primary teacher of residents and medical students.

1. Pre-round on all newborns covered by the MCW neonatology/pediatric service
   - Taking care of urgent/emergent medical conditions
   - Assessing each newborn before teaching rounds

2. Lead resident/medical student rounds. This includes clinical decision-making and teaching.

3. Perform all neonatal consults from newborn nursery. Neonatal consults will then be staffed with an attending neonatologist covering the CHW NICU. Follow-up all newborns in which neonatology has been consulted. Communicate treatment recommendations to the primary care pediatricians.

4. Be available during the day to discuss with residents or intervene issues regarding the newborn nursery service

5. Assist in teaching the medical students newborn exams and newborn care

6. Assist residents and medical students with procedures, such as blood drawing, lumbar punctures, etc.

7. Communicate with the attending pediatricians/neonatologists regarding significant changes in any newborn’s condition.
