“The most important thing to teach a student is how to approach a problem. The solution isn’t as important as learning how to solve the problem.”

-Hershel Raff, PhD