At the Medical College of Wisconsin (MCW), we understand that the role of the pharmacist is evolving dramatically to alleviate the increasing demands on our healthcare system, meet the needs of patients and help them to improve their quality of life. That’s why the MCW Pharmacy School is committed to training pharmacists to not only become members of inter-professional medical teams, but as advocates who serve the needs of patients by providing preventive services, ensuring medical adherence and elevating the level of care for those dealing with chronic disease or in need of acute care. If you are looking to make a meaningful contribution to the ever-changing field of healthcare and shape the lives of patients on a daily basis, the MCW Pharmacy School is here to guide you on your journey.

MCW is one of the few pharmacy schools in the country offering a three-year Doctor of Pharmacy (PharmD) degree, which may be ideal for you if you are:

- Eager to practice immediately after graduation, with certificates in hand for point of care testing, medication therapy management and immunization training
- Excited to live and learn in a large metropolitan area
- Interested in participating in team-based learning alongside medical and graduate students
- Interested in beginning your work as a pharmacist one year sooner
A SUPPORTIVE EDUCATIONAL EXPERIENCE
As a student at MCW, you will experience a blend of rich healthcare education traditions, cutting-edge educational technologies and team-based learning models. Additionally, our smaller class sizes offer significant one-on-one attention from renowned faculty, providing you with a truly personalized and supportive learning environment.

HANDS-ON EXPERIENCE AT WORLD-CLASS FACILITIES
Our partnerships with some of the leading hospitals, clinics and community pharmacies in the country, including Froedtert Hospital, Children’s Hospital of Wisconsin, the Clement J. Zablocki VA Medical Center, Walgreens, CVS, ShopKo and Walmart, will allow you to gain hands-on experience while serving the everyday needs of a variety of unique patient populations. This means that whether your calling is to work closely with children and families, the elderly, those who have bravely served our country, or as a member of an internal medical team, your education at MCW’s Pharmacy School will serve you well.

PRACTICE AT THE TOP OF YOUR LICENSE
As a graduate of MCW’s PharmD program, you will have the knowledge and skills to practice at the “top of your license,” allowing you to fulfill all aspects of the expanding role of the pharmacist. If you are interested in working directly with patients who appreciate the convenience and effectiveness of engaging with their pharmacist for primary care services and health management, or if you prefer joining a team of physicians, nurses and other healthcare professionals working to improve the effectiveness and efficiency of patient care in clinical and residential settings, we are here to support and encourage you.
