

Medical College of Wisconsin

2022 Visiting Underrepresented in Medicine Student Elective Program

Consider an elective at MCW

The program is designed to expose URiM students to the outstanding training programs at MCW, connect students to current MCW faculty, students, and trainees, and increase the number of URiM students applying for house staff positions at MCW. Students will have opportunities for mentoring from faculty and trainees. Dedicated social engagement through activities showcasing the city of Milwaukee will also be provided.

Program Details

- MCW accepts applications through the VSLO \(Visiting Student Learning Opportunities\) for full-time senior medical students attending an LCME-accredited medical school or COCA-accredited osteopathic medical school seeking to take an MCW 4-week elective for credit during the fall term only (July - December). Rotation dates are established by MCW and noted on the VSLO MCW Information Page (enter Medical College of Wisconsin as the institution). More information is available on the MCW Visiting Senior Medical Student Program Page. All program rotations are subject to availability.
- Accepted students must be in good standing at their home institutions, have a demonstrated record of academic excellence and be a member of a group that is recognized as racially/ethnically URiM by MCW:
 - Mexican American, Puerto Rican, Black/African American, Native American, and Hmong/Hmong American
- Accepted students will receive a travel stipend up to $2,000 to cover application costs, housing, transportation, and other living expenses.
- Students may attend resident didactics, MCW conferences and development sessions (as applicable).

To apply, please: complete the VSLO and the MCW Visiting URiM Student Elective Program Application.

Available Student Elective Rotations:

Diagnostic Radiology
Interventional Radiology
Nuclear Medicine
Pediatric Radiology
VIR Acting Internship

Applications will be accepted and reviewed on a rolling basis, by an established committee, beginning April 1, 2022.

For more information visit the Radiology website under Visiting URiM Student Elective Program.