The Medical College of Wisconsin Department LaBahn Pancreatic Cancer Symposium will be held Friday, August 2, 2024 at the Medical College of Wisconsin; Hub for Collaborative Medicine; 1st Floor Conference Room A1015/1035.

PARKING
Complimentary parking is available on the surface and covered parking lot is located on 87th and Watertown Plank Road.

PROGRAM PURPOSE
The aim of the symposium is to provide a forum that highlights innovative basic and translational science advancements in pancreatic cancer. The goal is to disseminate new information to accelerate the translation of novel preclinical science into clinical trials.

TARGET AUDIENCE
• Surgeons (Surgical Oncologists, General Surgeons, Residents, and Fellows)
• Medical Oncologists
• Primary Care Providers
• Basic and Translational Scientists, and Population Health Scientists
• Advanced Practice Providers

EDUCATIONAL METHOD
The format will include lectures from leaders. Upon completion of each speaker’s talk there will be an opportunity for open debate and discussion. There will be dedicated time available between presentations for attendees to discuss cases one-on-one with course faculty members.

EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVE
Upon completion of the course, attendees will be able to:
• Outline patient outcomes, including tumor response rates and survival rates, following flash radiotherapy.
• Identify how a personalized medicine approach can lead to extended survival rates and extend the overall quality of life for patients.
• Describe actionable pathways not previously identified through genomic analyses, supporting the idea that effective future therapeutic regimens for PDAC will include epigenomic targets.
