

Become a member today!

Membership Benefits

- Access to attend CDPR sponsored retreats, lectures, seminars, and journal clubs
- Access to CDPR administrative support for the development and submission of large collaborative and multi-PI grants
- Financial management support of the abovementioned grants, if awarded
- Invitation to apply for CDPR intramural pilot grants
- Access to CDPR shared resource facilities and platform for clinical trials (to be developed), including help with Institutional Review Board (IRB) applications, and federal regulatory requirements (IND applications)
- Opportunity to participate in shaping the future of disease prevention research at MCW

Benefits Coming Soon

- Eligibility to occupy future CDPR research space
- Access to incentives provided by the Froedtert Wellness Works program and MCW's Wellness program

Membership Expectations

- Demonstrate a commitment to the CDPR's mission to become a catalyst for research focused on the prevention of chronic diseases
- Regularly attend CDPR retreats, meetings, seminars, and other special events
- Acknowledge any CDPR support on all publications, oral/poster presentations, grant submissions, (including selecting the CDPR as an affiliate center in eBridge as appropriate), and internal/external media announcements
- Maintain your credentials, appointments, publication, and CV through the Faculty Collaboration Database
- As requested, submit regular progress reports for projects funded by CDPR funded seed/pilot grants